A woman wearing a red puffer jacket and a red and black knit hat is working in a laboratory. She is seated at a table covered with a blue and white checkered cloth, which is cluttered with various pieces of laboratory equipment, including several large white plastic bottles, smaller vials, and pipettes. She is holding a small blue pipette tip in her right hand and reaching for a small vial with her left hand. The background consists of wooden walls and shelves, with a bright light source illuminating the workspace.
