I have Alice Ipkanak here as an elder to interview about the access trail.

Do you know if there are any archeological sites near by or is there any that you know of with the access trail?

Alice's response was the access trail that we are at. She doesn't seem to know if there is any around the access trail, but she does know that there is couple far away from the trail, and way further down is another one which is an old fox trap that is not connected to to porposed access trail.

Linda asked the one that Alice had mentioned. Is that the one that is closer to the Melidine Mine?

The old sod houses are closer to the melidine mine, and may have already been damaged by the mining company, but I do recall that there was couple that might still be around that area. Alice stated that the current access trail doesn't seem have one that she had never encountered.
