Bruce:

I searched our database for sites within 66 30N-66 40 N; 112 14W -112 24 W. There are no record archaeological sites within that area (therefore no agreement needed). However there were at least 11 newly recorded sites association with work Tahera had done in the 1990s. This means there are likely unrecorded archaeological sites within the region you would like to conduct exploration. Again as a heads up there is a very high potential that when a land use permit or IOL access permit crosses my desk from NIRB (or INAC) CLEY's recommendation will be that an archaeological inventory of the property be conducted in particular if you plan on conducting drilling. You may want to plan for this in advanced as it save headaches and holdups :-). For your information I have attached CLEY's Guidelines for Developers and a list of archaeological consultants who have worked in Nunavut in the past.

Sincerely,

Julie Ross

Bruce:

There are no recoded site locate on the Hood property. There are 5 sites located on the Contwoyto property.

I have converted the UTM to DMS and searched 66 32 to 66 34N; 112 17 to 112 20 W (a slight buffer added) for the Rockinghorse property and there are no recorded sites.

Please let me know if you need the site data for the Contwoyto property and I will forward it to you first thing in the morning.
