Hi Talia -

We will follow no-trace back-country camping procedures. We will dig a toilet hole for human waste and greywater - this will be placed above any high-water mark - we don't want to contaminate our water samples we are taking downstream! - and will be filled in before we leave.

I hope this answers your question and apologies for not clarifying this in the application initially.

Thanks so much again!

Kind Regards,
Maya

Good morning Maya,

I have a question regarding the temporary land-based camp with how you propose to dispose of greywater and human waste?

Best regards,
