Hi Cassel,

DFO-SCH is currently finalizing some important aspects of the design, such as the final quarry details, harbour layout details, and dredging disposal details. These components will be finalized after the completion of upcoming geotechnical studies and the associated results, and additional consultation with the community of Arctic Bay planned for March & May 2021. We would like to put the review of project proposal No. 125580 on hold until we complete the above listed details so we can present more accurate information to NIRB and the public, including in the Non-Technical Summaries. The activities associated with the project proposal will not change.

Please let me know if you have any questions or require further information.

Regards,
Eleanor
