

Engagement Activities

Overview

The Kivalliq Inuit Association (KivIA) continues to actively engage with all communities and community organizations in the Kivalliq region as part of their ongoing commitments and collaboration. These engagement activities include sharing information about the overall project. Initial information regarding specific data gathering activities proposed with this current baseline research fieldwork application has been shared at a high level. COVID-19 and public health restrictions have presented challenges to initial efforts to engage with Elders and communities and plans are underway to adapt our approach to allow for this.

The following table provides a list of communities and community organizations that have received project information related to this current baseline research fieldwork program. Engagement with communities and community organizations continues to be an ongoing priority for the project.
